Khuda TA states in
Quran e Majeed:

“And we have certainly made the Quran easy for remembrance”
[Surat al Qamar : Ayat 17]

It is by the dua of Al-Dai al ajal Syedna Mufaddal Saifuddin TUS that any individual is able to perform the hifz of Quran e Majeed. Hifz ul Quran is not merely memorization but rather involving and immersing one's self in the light of Al-Quran and attaining barakat from it.

Creating a passion for Hifz ul Quran and empowering him or her to do it on its own - is one of Hasanat High School's vision. In order to achieve that, the lower grades are involved in a more fun and playful approach whilst the higher grades are guided towards doing it on their own by achieving their self made targets.

To assist them in the journey of Hifz, we encourage our students to follow the 3 C's namely:

Be COMMITTED!

Be CONSISTENT!

CHALLENGE yourself everyday!

May every person attain the khushi of Maula TUS by doing Hifz ul Quran and achieving the ultimate goal! Ameen!

NewGen Leaders

Batul Ayyajiwala

Section Lead - Secondary School

'Young people willing to push super hard to make something happen are among the most powerful forces of the world'.

Sam Altman

This inspiring quote by Sam Altman resonates with the Secondary section students at Hasanat. It is a culture where students take ownership of their actions and are rightfully allowed to make choices best suited to them based on their strengths, interests and abilities. It may be in terms of subjects, timetable, timings and even the programmes that they want to participate in.

The shift is major as we adults need to show impeccable trust and faith in these NewGen leaders. Time and again we make it known to them with our words, actions, and behavior that it is okay to make mistakes, and go wrong so that we learn from them.

Programmes like Coffee with the Zahedis, AIR, and Sports Day are live examples of student leadership where they are given the reins of the entire program. Right from the conceptualization to finance and teams, everything falls under student leadership!

It's absolutely heartening to see them fall, rise, fall again, rise again, and finally emerge as winners.

These are the memories that they will cherish for a lifetime and the experience is firsthand. My students excel in these programs and have proved their mettle in academics too! The ICSE results so far are witness to this. Our goal in the Secondary section is to make the New Generation Leaders who are a combination of brains, emotions, sensitivity and skills. These attributes will certainly enable them to make themselves useful for the world and leave a mark wherever they are!

ARTIST IN RESIDENCE

A.I.R- "Artist in Residence"
I'm sure you've heard this a gazillion times. As the name suggests, artists stay with us for a fortnight and teach us various skills like acting, art, collecting money, handling the camera and the tech part of it. There were five departments- Set & Props, Tech Team (where documentation team was included), Sponsorship, Acting, and Costume & Makeup.

I was a part of the acting department. It was a fun experience and there were a whole set of learnings I'll treasure forever. I'd say this was one of the most interesting A.I.R's we have ever done. This time there were no main characters, no one was stuck with a particular role. The costumes decided our roles and I would say this gave us all an equal opportunity to showcase our individual talents.

How is it different from others?
- Student led
- Different Departments
- Special Experts for supervising
- Everything from beginning
What are its benefits?
- Slabs :- 5,000 shout out
 10,000 -
 15,000 24
 25,000 2 34
 50,000

One of the biggest lessons I learned from this event would be the concept of 'efficiency'. Every time we would slack the artists would tell us that we can extend time indefinitely if need be, but if we are unable to do the given work in the given amount of time, we aren't being efficient. It is a very important learning as it reminds us about the importance of meeting deadlines, helps us to become more productive, as well as utilize our time better.

Finally I'll conclude by saying "There is always a room for error, you don't have to be always perfect"

COFFEE WITH

THE zahedis

The background of the entire page is a repeating pattern of coffee cups. Each cup is on a saucer and has three wavy lines above it representing steam. The cups alternate between a dark red color and a light teal color. The pattern is set against a dark teal background. There are also some abstract, curved lines in shades of red and teal overlaid on the page.

Taha Saylawala

Grade 9 Student

We were taken to the Mathematics lab in the homeroom period having no idea what was about to happen. Our teachers showed us a video of an ex -student interviewing Ms. Fiona. After this we were told that we would have to interview two individuals; Radhika and Siamack Zahedi. At first, we were clueless and had no idea of who they were and how we would manage to pull it off. Yet, the process got easier as we started rehearsing and got familiar with things.

Let me also introduce our interviewee's; The Zahedis.

Siamack Zahedi is the Director of Teaching and Research at The Acres Foundation. Radhika, his wife, is the School Director at the Green Acres Academy.

We eventually did an event called "Coffee with the Zahedis"

To make that event a success, we had been divided into many teams and we carried out different tasks. We had a cooking, decor, interviewers, tech, logistics and documentation teams. The event was a success and the school is to thank for it.

ALL IN ONE!!

It's THE

Mufaddal Rajkotwala

Head Of Admin

“We are each other’s harvest,
and we are each other’s business.”
This quote by Gwendolyn Brooks resonates the most with me.

No one to answer your queries at the reception, or no one to check your temperature and suggest you rest while you feel uneasy. Also, will you be able to use the restrooms if they weren’t cleaned for the day?

So, the next time you see things in place, from the reception to your class, you know who’s silently and diligently fulfilling their duties.

As an administrator of this prestigious school, I also act as a link between the teachers and the management.

In addition, ensuring that the school functions flawlessly everyday brings a sense of humble accomplishment and success.

The team consists of me and my support staff (I’d like to think of them as my silent warriors), including our IT in charge, school librarian, front-desk receptionist, medical officer, and support staff. While I may head and guide them, it will be righteous to confess that without their assistance, I wouldn’t be able to hold the fort. Running a school is seldom a one-man show and often demands tireless efforts from the back-end team, and I am thoroughly humbled and honored to lead this highly significant and efficient admin team in school. Together, we will continue to work towards our goals—to ensure our teachers and students work in unison towards a common goal while improving standards and opportunities.
